

“We continue to have a high number of our students qualify for the Adams Scholarship, and the Class of 2010 is no exception – nearly one-third of the class has earned this scholarship. We are extremely proud of our seniors and the example they have set for our younger students.”

Recipients of the Adams Scholarship are granted four years of free tuition at Massachusetts state colleges and universities. Students who receive the Adams scholarship must complete their college program in four years or less and maintain a cumulative 3.0 grade point average. Last academic year, the average tuition per semester was $740 at community colleges, $961 at state colleges, and $1575 at the University of Massachusetts.

North Andover High School will honor its scholarship recipients with a breakfast for students and their parents on Wednesday, October 28, 2009. The following North Andover High School seniors have earned an Adams Scholarship: Jenna Armstrong, Benjamin Barker, John Baylies, Andrew Bernardin, Jamie Bogosian, Hillary Buck, Erin Burns, Meghan Buttress, Benjamin Buxton, Robert Cannella, Marcus Carbone, Angela Cavallaro, Scott Chamberlin, Lindsey Channen, Benjamin Coflan, Alison Coleman, Kathleen Connelly, Krista Coufos, Molly Cummings, Nicole Desmond, Andrew DiMarzo, Brian Donegan, Michael Ely, Cassandra Fagan, Amanda Faucher, Amanda Favorat, Nathan Ferreira, Colin Foley, Kevin Foote, Katherine Ford, Margaret Fouhy, Danielle Fournier, Julia Friend, Ryota Fuchino, Zachary Gorman, Phillip Greene, Michelle Hall, Robert Hamel, Sarah Hickey, Kimberly Holdlin, Matthew Hogan, Thomas Hollowell, Hyun-Zie Hong, Emily Ingram, Stephanie Jung, Brian Kibler, Marissa
